is home to the Midwest's most chefs and restaurants, as well as others come to make a name for m breakfast to dessert, from the nts in town to the oldest, from white paper napkins, from tiny coffee shops to the city's most elishments, German Village is a xplore on an empty stomach.

German Village is 233-acres of paradise just eight blocks from the State Capitol. In the 1800s, German Village was home to immigrant laborers and craftsmen. Their stories are preserved in the brick streets and the architecture of the buildings and dwellings they left behind. Today's German Village is where the old and new come together in a vital urban community of city leaders, artists, entrepreneurs, young professionals and their families. The best way to enjoy the brick streets, wrought iron fences, story-and-a-half brick cottages, Dutch Doubles and community parks is by foot. Stop in at the Meeting Haus and Visitor Center at S88 S. Third St. for a brief orientation and to purchase a walking tour map.

Welcome to German Village, one of the most storied urban neighborhoods in the US.

We are an energetic, eclectic collection of modern lifestyles enjoying the best shops, restaurants and parks found anywhere against a backdrop of brick streets and houses listed on the National Register of Historic Places. German Village is not just preserved architecture from the 1800s; it is the aggregation of more than 130 years of the stories of area people, families and businesses.

Character lives on!

- Listed on the National Register of Historic Places since 1974.
- In 2006, German Village was made a Preserve America Community by the White House.
- The New York Post listed German Village and Columbus among the Top 5 Travel Spots in the World in 2007.
- Travel site Fodors.com lists German Village as a Top 3 "Fodor's Choice" pick.
- We are a 2011 designee as one of the country's 10 Great Neighborhoods, recognized by the American Planning Association.
- We are one of the New York Times' top rated, pedestrian-friendly urban neighborhood real estate markets.

SHOP

As was typical in an 1800s neighborhood, you will discover a variety of one-of-a-kind locally owned boutiques, specialty stores, salons, galleries, restaurants and other businesses clustered throughout the area. The map inside will help you navigate the neighborhood to locate interesting shops, businesses and other points of interest.

DINE

German Village is home to the Midwest's most accomplished chefs and restaurants, as well as the place where others come to make a name for themselves. From breakfast to dessert, from the newest restaurants in town to the oldest, from white linens to white paper napkins, from tiny diners, delis and coffee shops to the city's most respected establishments, German Village is a great place to explore on an empty stomach.
